A Message from the Dean

The College of Education at San Diego State University holds as one of its primary tenets a commitment to improving the field of practice through the application of knowledge and through strategic partnerships to facilitate positive change. The College’s ability to secure external funding for research, evaluation, training, and demonstration projects is one measure of success in fulfilling this commitment.

This report presents descriptions of the grants, contracts, and other externally funded projects in operation under the auspices of the College of Education during the period from July 1, 2011 to June 30, 2012. Included are projects and programs representing the work of the following:

- 36 Education faculty and administrators who serve as Principal Investigators and Project Directors.
- The Imperial Valley Campus of SDSU as well as the San Diego campus.
- Interdisciplinary projects and programs with other Colleges within the University.

These efforts resulted in a total of $14,635,339 million for the College of Education at the San Diego campus in 2011-12. This total includes the College’s portion of $1,285,127 interdisciplinary grants involving the College of Education. In addition, efforts of Education faculty at the Imperial Valley Campus of San Diego State University resulted in funding totaling approximately $244,593 for a grand total of $14,879,932.

Dean, College of Education
Organization of The Report

This report provides information about the grants, contracts, and other externally funded projects awarded to the College of Education at San Diego State University during the 2011-2012 academic year. The report is organized by the departments within the College of Education. Departments from the West SDSU campus appear first, followed by the Imperial Valley Campus. Within each department, grants and contracts are listed in alphabetical order. Interdisciplinary awards are presented at the end of each department’s entries, if applicable.

Each project description contains these elements: title of the grant or contract, principal investigator or investigators, sponsoring agency, total award for academic year 2011-12, beginning and ending dates for the project, and a brief summary of the project’s purpose and scope. Interdisciplinary projects also contain information about the total award and the amount allocated to the College.

An appendix provides information about internal grant awards to faculty in the College of Education for academic year 2011-2012. Internal grant competitions include those sponsored by SDSU and the College of Education Inquiry Grant program. At the end of the report is an index of principal investigators.

The purpose of this project is for the California Parent Center (CPC) to provide a one-day training for the DISTRICT as described below. Any changes to services as described below will be agreed upon by CONTRACTOR and DISTRICT. Training will be provided for a total of 75 participants, with participants to be determined by the district. Leadership development training will include 1) a research-based framework and operational model for connecting programs of school, family and community partnership directly to each school’s academic goals for students in their Single Plan for Student Achievement to support increased achievement; 2) using an organized action team approach to planning, implementing and evaluating effective partnership activities to increase the positive involvement and support of families and effective collaboration with community partners; 3) resources and strategies for organizing purposeful family and community involvement linked to student learning at elementary and secondary levels; 4) identification of strengths of culturally and linguistically diverse school communities and the importance of building a welcoming school climate.

Early Childhood-Social, Emotional and Behavioral Regulation Intervention Specialists (EC-SEBRIS)

Shulamit Ritblatt
San Diego County Health and Human Services Agency
Award (AY 2011-12): $224,000
6/1/2012 to 6/30/2013

Parent Education Empower (IA PESE Service)

Shulamit Ritblatt
Family Health Centers of San Diego
Award (AY 2011-12): $141,274
7/1/2011 to 6/30/2012

The purpose of this program is to improve the physical health, developmental status, school readiness, and life prospects of all children ages 0-5 in the East and Central Regions of San Diego County, with particular reference to low-income, medically underserved children, working in partnership with FHCSD under Healthy Development Services (HDS) Program.
San Diego CARES Program

Shulamit Ritblatt
YMCA of San Diego County
Award (AY 2011-12): $900
7/1/2011 to 6/30/2011

The purpose of the San Diego CARES (Comprehensive Approach to Raising Educational Standards) Stipend Program is to market and recruit CARES participants for the program, provide campus events, provide expertise and counseling to participants, and participate in YMCA CRS CARES Liaison meetings and disseminate current information back to all child development department members. CARES participants will be provided with support including tutoring, transcript review, as well as technical assistance such as completing applications and forms, and transferring to a four year university. The program will host campus events to provide faculty and counselors an opportunity to present information.
Building Capacity in Military-Connected Schools: Adding School Counseling Students

Jose Estrada
University of Southern California
Award (AY 2011-12): $23,992
1/15/2012 to 8/31/2012

The work will involve finding and coordinating school site placements for the SDSU school counseling students so they can help in creating sustainable and replicable infrastructures that build capacity by providing extra resources and support at military-connected schools which currently do not have school counseling trainees. The school counseling trainees will work with students, staff, and parents to improve the school climate for military students.

San Diego County Bilingual School Psychology Consortium

Valerie Cook-Morales
U.S. Department of Education
Award (AY 2011-12): $300,000
7/2/2011 to 7/1/2012

The San Diego Bilingual School Psychology Consortium brings together the nationally accredited program in school psychology at San Diego State University and five school districts in San Diego County. These five districts enroll over half of the County’s Spanish-speaking English-learners. As a Consortium, we have five goals: 1) to increase the number of new bilingual school psychologists; 2) to provide a specialized bilingual extension of the SDSU School Psychology Program (pre-service); 3) to ensure that our graduates are highly qualified bilingual school psychologists; 4) to build the capacity of the San Diego County Bilingual Consortium to prepare new bilingual psychologists by preparing highly qualified bilingual school psychologists as effective field supervisors; and 5) to improve services to Spanish-speaking English-learners in San Diego County (PreK-12 public schools).

The SDSU Native American Collaborative Project (NACP) proposes to reduce the profound gap in numbers of school counselors and psychologists appropriately trained to serve Native American youth and communities. Augmenting SDSU’s nationally recognized training in school psychology and school counseling, the NACP Project will provide a cohort model with Native American mentors, models, readings, an ongoing specialty seminar, and supervised specialized field placements in schools with substantial Native American populations and opportunities to work with special and regular educators, UDI principles and strength based and resilience oriented systemic intervention in a high poverty school. Financial incentives and stipends offset the high costs of tuition and fees, and help support scholars with necessary costs of professional supplies and development, mileage to rural placements, and involvement in Native American educational activities and professional conferences. This will enhance and support a candidate pool otherwise unlikely or unable to attend the two year (M.S. in School Counseling) and four year (Ed.S. in School Psychology) graduate programs. Two partner school districts provide access to Native American students, parent groups, and tribal support.

Wellness and Restorative Practices Partnership

Colette Ingraham, Audrey Hokoda and Gerald Monk
California Endowment
Award (AY 2011-12): $341,296
2/15/2012 to 2/14/2013

Special Education-Personnel Development to Improve Services and Results for Children with Disabilities

Valerie Cook-Morales
Department of Education, Office of Special Education Programs
Award to College: $300,000
1/1/2012 to 12/31/2012

Project CI2ELO will improve preservice preparation of school psychologists and speech-language pathologists to serve English-learning students (ELs) with or at risk of high incidence disabilities in California’s public schools. This preparation involves a collaborative partnership between SDSU’s programs in School Psychology and Speech-Language Pathology with San Diego City Schools’ Transdisciplinary Services. CI2ELO has four goals: 1. To increase the numbers and diversity of school psychologists (PSYs) and speech-language pathologists (SLPs) prepared to serve high-needs ELs with, or at risk of, disabilities. 2. To offer a model transdisciplinary collaborative education program to ensure that those PSYs and SLPs have the knowledge, skills and dispositions to provide services for high-needs ELs with, or at risk of, disabilities via collaborative instruction and interventions. 3. To enhance the capacity of SDSU’s PSY and SLP programs to prepare professionals for high-needs, low-performing multilingual schools in communities of poverty. 4. To enhance the effectiveness of collaborative prevention and intervention services for high-needs ELs with, or at risk of, disabilities in San Diego’s multilingual schools.

Training Personnel to Provide Related Services to Children, Including Infants and Toddlers, With Disabilities: Transdisciplinary Approaches to Autism Spectrum Disorders (TAASD)

Valerie Cook-Morales
U.S. Department of Education
Award to College: $149,768
1/1/2012 to 12/31/2012

Project TAASD was developed to improve the quality and address the shortages of personnel who are fully credentialed to serve high-need CLD children with ASD. TAASD will support 12 trainees annually, 6 each in speech-language pathology and school psychology, all of which will commit two years to the project. Over the next 4 years, we anticipate the training of 24 master’s level professionals with the knowledge and skills to serve CLD children with ASD. Trainees from the two disciplines will acquire evidence-based expertise and will be prepared to apply a collaborative service delivery model that is consistent with current recommendations for the improvement of autism services (Lord & Bishop, 2010; National Autism Center, 2009; National Research Council, 2001). Finally, TAASD furthers efforts toward addressing the needs of CLD children with ASD by preparing new trainees to work with diverse children and their families. These graduates will obtain state certification and professional license and we expect that they will enjoy multiple offers and 100% employment in the schools.
Educational Leadership

APLUS (Advancing Principal Leadership in Urban Schools), Crawford High School

Joseph F. Johnson
San Diego Unified School District
Award (AY 2011-12): $7,500
10/1/2011 to 6/15/2012

A-PLUS program engaging the principals of three schools in solving specific achievement challenges that confront their school. The program integrates on-site problem analysis, peer review and analysis, and consultations with principals of high-performing schools in a manner that supports principals in attaining improved learning results associated with a specific achievement challenge.

APLUS (Advancing Principal Leadership in Urban Schools), Seminola County, Florida

Joseph F. Johnson
Seminole County Public Schools
Award (AY 2011-12): $180,000
7/1/2011 to 6/30/2012

Contractor shall provide to district the Contractor’s A-PLUS Program (Advanced Principal Leadership in Urban Schools). The program will be provided in support of eight principals of schools identified by the district. The eight schools will be organized into two networks in a manner agreeable to the district. Each network will be facilitated by an Executive Coach provided by Contractor. The Executive Coach will have experience directing and supporting urban school improvement efforts. Services associated with the A-PLUS program will include network meetings, coaching meetings, visits by principals of high-performing urban schools, visits to high-performing urban schools, and meeting with district leaders.

APLUS (Advancing Principal Leadership in Urban Schools), St. Louis, MO

Joseph F. Johnson
Normandy School District
Award (AY 2011-12): $188,000

Consultant for Campus Improvement Teams

Joseph F. Johnson
Houston Independent School District
Award (AY 2011-12): $524,790
7/1/2011 to 6/30/2012

Through the Advancing Principal Leadership in Urban Schools (A-PLUS) program, we will generate dramatic improvements in student learning results to help seven selected HISD schools earn a recognized accreditation rating from the Texas Education Agency in three years. This goal is attainable because the A-PLUS Program is based upon our study of the best practices of many of the nation’s highest performing urban schools, including urban schools in Texas that have achieved exemplary accreditation ratings.
The purpose of this project is to support people with developmental disabilities to work at a real job in the community, which offers meaningful work, fair compensation and dignity. Services include job development, job coaching, job skill development and advocacy.

The purpose of this project is to provide support to people with developmental disabilities who live in their own homes. The emphasis of Independent Living Services is the provision of critical instruction in meaningful activities such as managing supports, budgeting, home management, meal preparation and planning, home safety, personal care, health management, parenting, recreation, community involvement, relationship building and employment services.

The curricular focus of Creative Support Alternatives addresses instructional and support issues/needs related to functional and meaningful environments and activities relevant to an individual’s age, preferences and neighborhood of residence. Curriculum, in the context of Independent Living Services, includes 1) the provision of critical instruction in meaningful activities and environments; 2) the identification of support needs and provision of support to meet those needs; and, 3) the facilitation of personal connections to one’s neighborhood/community and other environments that an individual accesses on a regular basis.

Common Core Objectives to Reform Education for English Learners
Karen Cadiero-Kaplan
Department of Education, Office of Elementary and Secondary Education
Award (AY 2011-12): $262,746
9/1/2011 to 8/31/2012

Project CORE brings together an experienced consortium of educators and second language acquisition experts from San Diego State University, San Diego County Office of Education, and local school districts, to address the critical and urgent need to transition to (CCLAS) and prepare SDSU College of Education (COE) Faculty, pre-service and in-service teachers to provide English Learners in San Diego County access and opportunity to achieve (CCLAS) and acquire 21st Century skills. Project CORE will provide teacher education faculty along with in-service teachers an opportunity to develop curricula processes and materials that align the California CCLAS to English Language Proficiency Levels with the goal of accelerating English Learners acquisition of language and literacy with a focus on 21 Century Skills.

Effective Science Teaching for English Language Learners: A Pre-service Teacher Professional Development Research Project Across Three Universities in California
Alberto Rodriguez
University of California at Santa Cruz
Award (AY 2011-12): $111,498
9/1/2011 to 8/31/2012

Project investigators will conduct an experimental design study on the impact of an ESTELL elementary teacher education designed to prepare novice teachers to teach science to English Language Learners (ELL) and a qualitative study on program implementation. The ESTELL project builds on prior research in two areas: the integration of inquiry science, language and literacy practices; and the CREDE Five Standards for Effective Pedagogy which have identified a common set of teaching practices associated with increased achievement of ELLs. This project will adapt this approach to pre-service teacher preparation. The ESTELL model of pre-service teacher education will be integrated into every stage of teacher preparation and induction from the science teaching methods courses in the post-baccalaureate credential programs, to the clinical setting of student teaching and the first two years of teaching. Researchers will focus on three research questions: (1) What is the impact of the ESTELL teacher education program on novice teachers beliefs and practice; (2) What is the relationship between the use of ESTELL by program graduates and the science achievement of 4th/5th grade students and (3) What is the impact of the ESTELL program on the beliefs and practice of the participating science methods faculty, teacher supervisors and cooperating teachers?
Even Start Programs Project ACCESS (Kimbrough and Edison Elementary Schools)

Professional Development for Pre-service Bilingual Special Education Teachers of English Learners: ALAS

Alberto Ochoa and Eugene Valles
U.S. Department of Education
Award (AY 2011-12): $228,836
7/2/2011 to 7/1/2012

The overall goal of the ALAS project is to actively address the need of qualified bilingual special education teachers who are trained to teach K-8 LEP students by providing high-quality professional development in bilingual special education.
San Diego Area International Language Network (SALIN): NCLB 8 Federal Funds

Alberto Ochoa
University of California Office of the President
7/1/2011 to 6/30/2012
Award to College: $32,623.50

The Southern Area International Language Network (SAILN), based at San Diego State University (SDSU), is an interdisciplinary program between SDSU’s College of Education and College of Arts and Letters. SAILN offers support to teachers of Languages Other than English (LOTE) who are interested in pursuing a teaching credential, particularly where there are no existing approved credentialing programs. LARC encourages teachers in its Critical Language Programs to attend SAILN Tiered Workshops Series (Foundation through/Leadership) and to receive mentoring from SAILN veteran teachers and Team Leaders in acquiring knowledge and skills necessary to plan and implement standards-based lesson plans with their students. SAILN programs supported more than 94 such teachers last year alone. LARC’s support was critical to increase capacity to serve these teachers who are in high demand throughout our service region. SAILN conducts teacher-developed reviews of standard-based lesson plans and models the teaching of these lessons to all its program participants.

SDSU Health Careers Opportunity Program (HCOP)

Cynthia Park
University of California at San Diego
Award (AY 2011-12): $176,299
9/1/2011 to 8/31/2012

The SDSU HCOP program will collaborate formally with the SDSU Pre-Professional Health Careers Office directed by Barbara Huntington through a half-time Health Careers Advisor. This liaison will increase the number of DUR students at SDSU who become interested in and decide to enter health and allied health professions. It will also increase the numbers of DUR students who take advantage of the services the office provides.

SDSU Upward Bound Classic

Cynthia Park
U.S. Department of Education
Award (AY 2011-12): $357,329
9/1/2011 to 8/31/2012

This program assists student participants with high school study and encourages them to pursue a college education. The program consists of two main components. The first is study sessions, where tutors help students with basic skills and current courses. The second part involves a six-week intensive training session at SDSU Campus. For five weeks students and staff live in a campus residence hall where they enjoy full access to the University and its resources. Student participants are recruited from target schools, and are selected according to their potential academic success.

Talent Search

Cynthia Park
U.S. Department of Education
Award (AY 2011-12): $321,093
9/1/2011 to 8/31/2012

The legislated purposes of Talent Search (TS) are threefold: (1) to identify qualified youths with potential for education at the postsecondary level and to encourage such youths to complete secondary school and to undertake a program of postsecondary education; (2) to publicize the availability of services and facilitate the application for student financial assistance available to persons who pursue a program of postsecondary education; and (3) to encourage persons who have not completed programs of education at the secondary or postsecondary level to enter or re-enter and complete such programs. The overall goal of SDSU’s TS program is to enable 1045 low-income and potential first-generation college students to complete secondary school meeting the requirements of a rigorous curriculum and to enroll in a postsecondary education program of their choice with financial aid. In California a rigorous curriculum is defined as the a-g* high school subject area courses approved by the UC and CSU for entrance * (http://www.csumentor.edu).

Teacher Preparation through a Linked Learning Lens: A Collaborative Approach to Deepening and Expanding the Linked Learning Lens in California’s Single Subject Credential Programs

Nancy Farnan
James Irvine Foundation
Award (AY 2011-12): $1,000,000
1/1/2012 to 12/8/2013

The purpose of this project is to create a movement, a growing and sustainable revolution in teacher preparation that establishes a Linked Learning identity among new teachers that they passionately carry with them into their profession. The project will: 1) provide collaborative professional development, to include the seven university teacher preparation institutions and their school district partners, to include CSU Los Angeles as a new university network partner; 2) create, in partnership with the CSU Office of the Chancellor, sustainable collaborations and a strong community of practice between Linked Learning District Initiative (DI) districts and the partner teacher preparation institutions; 3) enhance and deepen the expertise and skill sets of Linked Learning teachers by a) developing and implementing a Recognition of Study; Linked Learning and b) creating a dual credential option for the Single Subject and Career Technical Education credentials; 4) engage university teacher preparation faculty and their school district partners in an online and sustainable network community of practice; 5) conduct a rigorous evaluation of the project’s outcomes.
Upward Bound - Student Achievement in Reading (STAR)

Cynthia Park
U.S. Department of Education
Award (AY 2011-12): $284,075
9/1/2011 to 8/31/2012

The purpose of this program is to serve 60 limited English-speaking students during academic year. Fifty of them will be selected for the intensive summer program. This program targets two schools that had never before been served by any Classic Upward Bound Program. The students attending these target schools are ethnically diverse. They live in pockets of poverty in some of the most economically depressed neighborhoods in the county. The SDSU Pre-college Institute wishes to expand its services to these schools because they are among the lowest income schools in their districts, and because educational achievement indices place them in the lowest 10% of the country's schools due to the high numbers of limited English speaking students served. This new Upward Bound ELL program will also serve Hoover High School and San Diego High School. Both of these schools have high free and reduced lunch eligibility rates and large numbers of limited-English-speaking students for whom there is no specialized program now that bilingual education was outlawed in California with the passage of Proposition 227.

Upward Bound Summer Residential Program

Cynthia Park
California Department of Education
Award (AY 2011-12): $12,234
7/1/2011 to 8/31/2011

The California Department of Education Summer Food Service Award partially reimburses the summer residential programs under the PreCollege Institute for the costs expended for food. The programs are Upward Bound Classic and STAR. The annual reimbursement is between 8,000 and 12,000 per year per program depending on the number of low-income eligible students served and the number of meals served.
Collaborative Research: Type 1: CE 21: Computing Principles for all Students’ Success (ComPASS)

Alexander Chizhik
National Science Foundation, Directorate for Computer and Information Science and Engineering
9/1/2011 to 8/31/2012
Award to College: $147,215

The ComPASS project seeks to springboard Southern California students into computing education, impacting 5000 students, 105 pre-service teachers, and 19 in-service teachers. Leveraging UCSD’s successful pilot of the CSIOK project’s proposed AP CS Principles, we will build local capacity and competency in teaching this course in the two leading San Diego-area universities, five local community colleges, and 15 local high schools.

CSMP/San Diego Mathematics Project: State

Rafaela Santa-Cruz
University of California Office of the President
7/1/2011 to 6/30/2012
Award to College: $7,950

Funding supports activities for California Subject Matter Project priorities, the development of highly-qualified teachers, developing teacher leadership, and supporting teachers of students struggling to meet the standards. State funds support a portion (13%) of the director’s salary so that she may continue collaboration with partner organizations and districts. Funding will also be utilized to support the annual leadership retreat.

GEAR UP to College Avenue

Cynthia Park
Department of Education, Office of Postsecondary Education
7/31/2011 to 7/30/2012
Award to College: $455,600.50

GEAR UP to College Avenue is a seven-year project to increase the number of low-income students graduating high school and prepared to enter and succeed in post-secondary education. Target schools include Wilson and Clark Middle School and Hoover High School. To increase the rate of post-secondary participation of Hoover graduates, the College Avenue Compact guarantees SDSU admission to Hoover’s graduation seniors.

Inquiry in Mathematics Teaching and Learning (IMTL)

Nadine Bezuk
Cajon Valley Union School District
7/1/2011 to 6/30/2012
Award to College: $78,050

This project will plan, prepare and present a minimum of 60 hours of intensive learning with forty-five hours in the summer and 15 hours in January. The focus of the math content addressed will be rational numbers, integers, and proportional reasoning. The specific content will address the identified needs of CVUSD and NSD teachers, teacher assessments, input from teachers, student assessment data, and observations in a sample of treatment teacher’s classrooms. Each session will be videotaped and SDSU faculty will post the video, assignments, and handouts, within seven days to facilitate every teacher meeting 100% of the learning requirements.
NCLB/San Diego Mathematics Project:
Federal

Rafaela Santa-Cruz
University of California Office of the President
7/1/2011 to 6/30/2012
Award to College: $14,000

California Subject Matter Projects, No Child
Left Behind (NCLB) Technical Assistance and Support Program, shall maintain the San Diego Mathematics Project. CSMP is closely aligned with California’s No Child Left Behind goals, as well as the current state policy related to standards, instructional materials, assessment, and accountability. The California Legislature enacted Assembly Bill 2950 to establish and maintain cooperative endeavors designed to strengthen the subject matter knowledge and enhance the instructional strategies in each subject area of teachers in the public schools and improve student learning and academic performance as measured against adopted State Board of Education standards.
Special Education

Personnel Development to Improve Services and Results for Children with Disabilities

Bonnie Kraemer and Laura Hall
Department of Education, Office of Special Education/ Rehabilitation Services
Award (AY 2011-12): $299,997
1/1/2012 to 12/31/2012

The goals, objectives and design of the proposed project are consistent with the purpose and priorities of federal and state initiatives to a) prepare fully certified special education teachers who implement evidence-based strategies and b) who sustain their contributions by continuing to obtain advanced knowledge and skill while mentoring beginning special educators (California Department of Education, 2010; No Child Left Behind Act, 2002).

Preparing Secondary Special Educators with a Specialization in Evidence-Based Transition Practice

John Johnson
Department of Education, Office of Special Education/ Rehabilitation Services
Award (AY 2011-12): $249,998
10/1/2011 to 9/30/2012

This project entitled, Preparing Secondary Special Educators with a Specialization in Evidence-Based Transition Practice, is a collaborative effort between the Department of Education and the Department of Administration, Rehabilitation and Postsecondary Education (ARPE) at San Diego State University that will prepare 45 scholars to become highly-qualified high school education special education teachers with California Clear Education Specialist Credential (ESC) study in either Mild-Moderate Disabilities or Moderate-Severe disabilities and a Transition Specialization Certificate. This project addresses Focus Area E: Preparing Personnel to Provide Secondary Transition Services to School-Age Children with Disabilities and Competitive Preference Priority #1.

Social Skills Intervention for Adolescents with ASD: An Evaluation of the PEERS Program

Bonnie Kraemer
National Foundation for Autism Research
Award (AY 2011-12): $9,500
1/1/2012 to 6/30/2012

The Program for the Education and Enrichment of Relational Skills (PEERS; Laugeson & Frankel, 2010) is a newly developed, manualized, parent-assisted intervention focusing on the skills needed to make and keep friends, that has been proven to be efficacious for adolescents with ASD (Laugeson et al., 2009). The PEERS program is a 14-week intervention that consists of didactic lessons, followed by role-playing exercises, and performance feedback. Each of the 14 weeks focuses on one area of instruction such as entering and exiting conversations, choosing appropriate friends, handling teasing and bullying, resolving disagreements with friends, and having appropriate get-togethers with friends. Additionally, each week the adolescents, as well as their parents, have social homework assignments to complete that promote generalization of skills and serves as reinforcement for the lessons taught.

Sustaining Evidence-based Practices for Young Learners with Autism Spectrum Disorders Through a Master’s Degree Program

Laura Hall
Department of Education, Office of Special Education/ Rehabilitation Services
Award (AY 2011-12): $199,997
8/1/2011 to 7/31/2012

This Master’s of Arts in Education with a concentration in Special Education/Autism Specialization project will be offered by the Department of Special Education with San Diego State University (SDSU) Foundation serving as the fiscal agent. In the State of California teachers credentialed to work in early childhood special education are prepared to work with children in early intervention (birth through 2) and in preschool programs (ages 3 through 5) or is a combined EI/EC credential. This collaborative project involves partners from both EI and EC programs. Preschool programs from four school districts: San Diego Unified School District (a suburban district in the South County with 70% identified from traditionally underrepresented groups), Poway Unified School District (in the North County with a growing population of young children), and La Mesa/Spring Valley School District (a suburban district in the east county) will participate.
Imperial Valley Mathematics Project
CSMP State Funds

Gregorio Ponce
University of California Office of the President
Award (AY 2011-12): $15,900
6/30/2012 to 7/1/2011

IVMP converges upon transforming (a) mathematical understanding, (b) classroom practices, and (c) leadership experiences of teachers to improve the learning experiences of students in mathematics. Therefore, IVMP proposes to simultaneously infuse its resources within these three themes in a systematic manner.

Migrant Education Summer Academy

Gregorio Ponce
Imperial County Office of Education
Award (AY 2011-12): $141,942
7/31/2012 to 4/23/2012

This program uses non-traditional, interactive student-centered approaches to help students overcome their fears, frustrations, and anxieties about mathematics, language arts, and the high school exit exam. The intent is to facilitate the creation of intellectual bridges within students so they connect abstract ideas through the use of concrete hands-on classroom experiences.

Migrant Education Summer Lyceum

Fernando Rodriguez-Valls
Imperial County Office of Education
Award (AY 2011-12): $58,751
7/31/2012 to 5/2/2012

Project created a Migrant Education Summer Lyceum guided by a Participatory Pedagogy, which implies the informational efficiency of pedagogic communication to link teachers’ theoretic and students’ utterances. Moreover, Participatory Pedagogy is a new way to reach migrant students who, though oftentimes silent, have powerful voices within themselves waiting for an opportunity to dialogue with their teachers about who they are and how they see themselves within their communities.

R9BMP- Imperial Valley Mathematics Project NCLB 8

Gregorio Ponce
University of California Office of the President
Award (AY 2011-12): $28,000
6/30/2012 to 7/1/2011

The R9B-Imperial Valley Mathematics Project (IVMP) will continue to provide direct services to teachers, support similar efforts by Imperial County Office of Education (ICOE), and continue to search for additional external funding sources to keep influence the teaching and learning of mathematics in this region.
