Tip of the month: Conquering the Career Fair

Career fairs are the ultimate job bazaars—bustling rooms crawling with dozens, or even hundreds of employers looking to deepen their talent pool. For job seekers, this means a golden opportunity to meet receptive recruiters face to face, gather a ton of information in a short time, and hopefully line up some interviews along the way. Click HERE to read more about:

-Preparing like a pro

-What do I want to achieve?

-What can I find out about the companies that will be at the fair?

-What position am I looking for and why

-What questions will I ask?

-What will I bring?

-Making your rounds: There are a few small steps that will maximize your experience .

-Afterthoughts: The career fair may be over, but your work isn't.
